

BREAK BULK TERMINAL

From Packaged Goods to Project Cargo

Located in the North Adriatic, the Break Bulk Terminal at the Port of Koper brings over 60 years of expertise in handling diverse cargo. Operated by Luka Koper d.d., the terminal combines skilled professionals, advanced facilities, and powerful equipment to deliver fast, safe, and high-quality services.

WHAT WE HANDLE

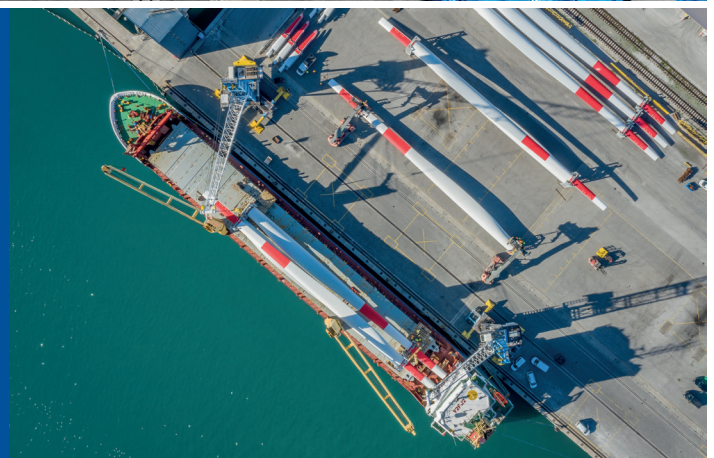

From coffee, sugar, rice, paper, pulp, magnesite, aluminium, steel plates and coils, pipes, rails, to household appliances and project cargo such as wind turbines' parts and battery storage containers, our capabilities cover more than 100 product groups.

Goods arrive packaged or semi-packaged in bags, boxes, bales, cases, coils, barrels, pallets, big bags, and more.

VALUE-ADDED SERVICES

We go beyond storage and handling by offering container stripping and stuffing. Additional services primarily include professional lashing, with other value-added services available upon prior agreement.

CONNECTED TO THE WORLD

In addition to accommodating conventional vessels at its own berths, the Break Bulk Terminal operates in close synergy with two key port facilities: the Container Terminal – the largest in the Adriatic – and the Car Terminal, ranked fourth in the EU. Both provide regular direct services to the Far East and the Mediterranean, ensuring seamless global connectivity.
